AN English syndicate recently visited Breckinridge county to look after camel coal mines they own there. They returned to England, but promise to visit this State again about Oct. 1st, at which time they purpose buying 500,000 acres of coal lands in Eastern Kentucky, and open up this section of the State with a network of railroads. This is glorious news for our people, and we bid those interested God speed in the undertaking. Some of our citizens wishing to sell land will find it to their interest to communicate with us.

Wat. M. Gay, a prominent cattle dealer of Bourbon, has caught several citizens of that county for large sums and gone to Canada. Among his victims, are H. C. Smith, $3,300; Charley Butler, $2,000; John Evans, $4,000; Thos. Woodford, $4,000; Edward and Cale Brown, $1,500; Elijah Moore, $1,500; and Andrew Thompson, $2,000.

THOS. C. JOHNSON announces himself for the circuit court clerkship in to-day's paper. He held the office of county clerk one term about ten years since, and is therefore acquainted with the routine work and requirements of a circuit clerk. Being a lawyer of ability, he will do honor to the position if elected, and will go to the primary with a large number of votes.

JOHN M. ROSE, of Stillwater, is announced as a candidate for the office of county school superintendent. Mr. Rose is a clever gentleman, has the interest of the schools at heart, and, if elected, he will make a good officer. Everybody knows him, he having been a prominent man for years, and he will go to the primary with a large following.

George Poplin, claiming to be from Menifee county, handed a woman in Lexington a $20 bill to have changed, and gave her $1 for her trouble. It proved to be a $2 bill which had been raised by a cipher wherever the figure two appeared. Officers arrested him, and he was locked up on the charge of counterfeiting.

Joseph Desha Pickett imparts the happy information that the per capita for 1885-6, white and colored, will be $1.65, an increase of 10 cents over last year.

Burton Terret waylaid and killed Martin Landerback, at Flat Rock, Bourbon county, on Thursday last.

The Schoolmaster of our Republic.
"When our republic rose, Noah Webster became its schoolmaster. There had never been a great nation with a universal language without dialects. The Yankee shireman can not now talk to a man from Cornwall. The peasant of the Apennines drives his goats home at evening, over hills that look down on six provinces, none of whose dialects he can speak. Here, five thousand miles change not the sound of a word. Around every fireside, and from every tribune, in every field of labor and every factory of toil, is heard the same tongue. We owe it to Noah Webster's Spelling Book and Dictionary. He has done for us more than Alfred did for England, or Odysseus for Greece. His books have educated three generations. They are forever multiplying his innumerable army of thinkers, who will transmit his name from age to age. Only two men have stood on the New World, whose fame is so sure to last—Columbus, its discoverer, and Washington, its savior. Webster is and will be its great teacher; and these make our trinity of fame."

The Late Election a Farce.

(Louisville Commercial.)

Nothing upon the question of changing the constitution in Kentucky is a farce. People can not vote upon that which they know nothing. No one who has ever read the constitution; not one in twenty ever saw it. It is not printed in a form suited to popular reading, being found chiefly in the immense volume of the general statutes, which is sold for about $8. Once in two years the State pays for a small pamphlet copy for each member of the legislature. How anybody not having access to these publications is to know what the constitution contains is a problem yet to be solved. There are many Germans in Kentucky who read no other language, but the constitution has never been translated for them.

Not only is the average voter without convenient access to the printed constitution, but an immense element of the population can not read it. The latest figures show more than a quarter of a million of persons in Kentucky over the age of ten wholly unable to read. Many who claim this accomplishment read with too much difficulty to understand such a document as the State constitution. Very many of this illiterate class are voters. Yet these are expected to express at the polls their opinion of the calling of a convention to change the organic law of the State.

Nobody knows how many persons in Kentucky are entitled to vote. Yet the law provides that the constitution can be changed only with the consent of a majority of the voters. When the assessors in a single county make reports of the number of voters differing by 1,000 within two consecutive years, it will be seen what a farce is the counting on a negative side of a question such an indefinite population. Assessors are paid 15 cents for every name they can add to their lists, and every one of these names are counted as a vote against progress unless it is found on the poll-books on the other side.

There is no means of bringing any subject before all the people of the State at any given time. The majority of the population is a rural one. In half of the area of the State the means of communication, even among people of the same county, is limited. Forty counties are without newspapers, so that the printing press can not be used to appeal to the interest of very many voters. This is one of the greatest obstacles toward getting the people of the State to act in concert on any measure.

Hence, an attempt to get a popular vote on constitutional revision means that men who never saw the constitution, men who can not read it if placed in their hands, men who can not be informed that a vote is to be taken, and even men who do not exist are counted against the measure, even if a large majority of those who are informed and interested on the subject—those who elect our State officers and the legislature—favor a change, and there is no known intelligent opposition to it.

The careless and the ignorant classes thus rule the State. They will do it in every State where they form a large element of the population. Popular government without intelligent citizenship can never be a success. In this fact, found the strongest argument for the education of the masses.

Senator Beck's Opinion.
[Cincinnati Commonwealth.]
Senator Beck was in Chicago the other day. He was asked by an Inter-Ocean reporter: "Democrats quarreling any in Kentucky?"

"Yes quarreling all the time. Quarreling among ourselves. Too many of us. We are divided over local and personal and primary raise so much disturbance that there is a family disturbance most of the time. On national affairs we are all right and harmonious. There is some little contest for Federal offices and the necessary ill feeling consequent upon the disappointment of those who fail to get them."

Senator Beck is about right. There are too many democrats in Kentucky. A nomination to intelligent citizenship is election. Corrupt measures are resorted to by the managers—committee men and their strikers—to secure the nomination of their favorites. This gives occasion for dissatisfaction, which in turn provokes controversy, and a close watch upon party management. There is nothing wrong in this; the party is none the worse for it. When the time comes to meet the common enemy we are all there, in line.

Another Kentucky Vendetta.
A dispatch from London, Aug. 8th, says: News has reached here of a bloody encounter in Leslie, between two women which proved to be the kindling of a fire which has swept over that section, taking the lives of several citizens and disturbing the peace and quietude of others. On the occasion referred to, Irvine Hoskins's daughter was riding home on a mule and met Mary Muncey, who at once commenced stoning her, causing the mule to throw her, and then whipped her badly. On the evening following several parties, supposed to be the Hoskins family and Morgans, son-in-law of Hoskins, appeared on the hill near Muncey's house and fired from ambush, resulting in the wounding of Wilson and Frederick Cornett and John Muncey, Jr., Wilson proved mortally, the ball taking effect in his thigh. About 100 shots were exchanged, and many of them were from rifles. Irvine Hoskins, Howard Felty, Waco, Thomas and Polly Jane Hoskins and Annilda Morgan have been arrested. Wilson and Taylor Morgan, supposed to be the guilty parties, are still at large.

At it Again in Letcher.
A dispatch from Whitesburg, on the 11th, states that there was a big fight on the 10th between the Jones and Wright factions at the head of Elk Horn in Letcher county. They fought with pistols and Winchester rifles. The Jones faction, led by Clabe Jones, from what can be learned surrounded the Wright or Hall faction, and ordered the latter to surrender. This the Hall faction refused to do, and the battle opened. The Halls were outnumbered and after a sharp fight took to the brush, but not until five or six of their men were wounded. The Jones party captured Hank Sizemore and Miles Bates. What disposition will be made of them is not known, but the general impression is that they will be gotten rid of.

Why the Negro Doesn't Rise.
[Atlanta Constitution.]
Bishop Turner, a leading colored man, has written a letter in which he advises the young men of his race to leave the towns and cities and seek homes on the Government lands in the West. He thinks the servile nature of the negroes in which a majority of the negroes are engaged degrades and strips them of all ambition. The Bishop says you may take the brightest young man in Georgia and let him come out of Harvard or Yale with a diploma in a hot bed sheet, but after he has blacked boots for three months at the Kimball House, his manhood is gone forever.

The "Fountain of Youth" Found.

Editor of THE HAZEL GREEN HERALD.

JACKSON, KY., Aug. 14.—It was with great reluctance that I bade adieu to Hazel Green and the dear friends that I found there. Of all the villages in our mountain counties, it has always seemed to me to be the most beautiful and picturesque. And now, that the "Fountain of Youth" has been discovered at the "Swango Spring," what more is needed to make it an attractive center? What a pity that old "Juan Ponce de Leon" wasted so much time in searching thro' the Bahamas and along the flowery banks of Florida for this secret of making one's self young again. If he had steered his barque for Red River, and landed at "Uncle Harry's," there is no telling how much younger he would have felt nor how much longer he might have lived. I have been led to these reflections by the sudden rejuvenation of my "old" friend Wellington Payne, Esq., of Lexington, and by great benefits that I myself received in the few days spent there. Really, if the proper steps were taken, you might have a most delightful and popular summer resort at Hazel Green. Let the water of Swango Spring be thoroughly analyzed by Dr. Peter, of Lexington, and let its virtues be published to those in search of a quiet and healthful retreat, and its success is assured.

I am glad that you have a line of stages to and from the depot. It is a grand improvement on paying two prices for a very poor riding horse and then paying a fellow three more prices to ride him back to his owner. Don't stop the stages until the iron horse plunges along a pathway of steel, making in a few minutes what at best is now a tedious trip of some hours. Wishing your town and county, and especially THE HERALD, much prosperity, I remain your old friend,

W. B. C.

The boiler at the ice-factory in Lexington exploded on the 14th, wrecking the engine house and blowing the engineer some 20 feet, but he was unhurt. Loss about $2,500.

There was a slight frost at Des Moines, Iowa, on the 13th.
